Traditionally showering has been associated with problems for the nursing staff such as heavy lifting, slippery floors and difficulties when undressing and dressing the patient.

Prelude offers a number of advantages and safety features when showering sitting patients.

Thanks to its small size, the cabinet can be installed in bathroom with limited space. The carer can wash her patient without getting wet herself, and the patient benefits from the feeling of dignity and privacy inside the cabinet. The fact that the cabinet has smooth surfaces and soft corners enhances patient safety and facilitates cleaning.

The cabinet is available with toilet function for incontinent patients.

Prelude can be used for different categories of patients. Ambulant patients can walk into the cabinet themselves, sitting patients can be transferred to the cabinet with SARA 3000 and bedridden patients can be transferred with Alenti. SARA 3000 is a standing and raising aid which makes the transfer from wheelchair easy. With Alenti you have a complete concept for transport from bed to cabinet.

A built-in equipment cleaning shower makes it easy to clean both the cabinet and the Alenti lift hygiene chair.

The Prelude cabinet offers:

- an easy-to-use showering system
- integrating lifting equipment that eliminates all manual lifting and thus minimizes the risk of back injuries
- good working environment (no splashing or slippery floors)
- enhanced patient integrity and dignity
- built-in toilet function for incontinent patients
- built-in equipment cleaning shower
